

Expectations for ADULTS involved in the Youth Delegation to Annual Conference:

- You will show up on time
- You will be where you are supposed to be
- You will be involved in the activities and discussions
- You will respect the rules set out by the leader of the event
- You will hold yourself, one another, and the students accountable for following those rules
- You will listen to the students
- You will spend time with the students, hearing their stories, explaining things they don't understand, and pouring into them throughout the event
- You will be in your rooms at lights out
- You will enter into this event with an open mind, open heart, and focused attention

I, _____ agree to abide by these expectations outlined above. I understand that failure to do so will result in disciplinary actions, which may include being asked to leave at my own expense. I know that my actions as a leader influence and reflect on others, and I am willing to take on that mantle for the glory of God.
