HOW ARE YOUR CHURCH'S APPORTIONMENTS DETERMINED?

Each year, the delegates to Annual Conference approve a formula that is used to determine each local church's apportionments. Delegates also approve the total dollar amount apportioned to all the churches in the Florida Conference. This is the conference budget. The proposed formula and amount for the coming year can be found in the Conference Workbook in the report of the Council on Finance & Administration (CF&A). The Conference Workbook is published before annual conference and is distributed to all delegates. After delegates approve a formula and budget, these are published in the CF&A report in the Conference Journal. At Annual Conference, your delegate also has the opportunity to speak to and vote on these matters. There are three basic kinds of apportionments: District Apportionments, Conference Apportionments and General Church Apportionments.

Each District office can provide information about its District Apportionments.

Conference Apportionments are calculated using the fair-share method, which considers each individual church's expenses relative to all other churches' expenses. It works like this:

1. For each church, we add together everything spent in three areas, as reported by the church in their year-end statistical report:
 - a. Compensation (salary and benefits) for all lay employees and clergy,
 - b. Operational items (utilities, postage, office supplies, yard care, maintenance, etc.)
 - c. Program items (Sunday School materials, worship resources, etc.)
2. After determining these expenses for each individual church, we add together the church totals for all 700-plus churches in the Conference.
3. Then we take the total for each church and divide it by the total for all the churches in the Conference. This gives us the fair-share decimal for each church.

$$\frac{\text{Expenses for your local church}}{\text{Total of expenses for all local churches in the Conference}} = \text{Fair-Share Decimal}$$

4. We multiply each church's fair-share decimal by the total amount of the budget (approved by Annual Conference delegates). This portion of the conference budget is each church's fair-share. This is the amount apportioned to each church.

Please note:

- The fair-share decimal is different for each church and changes every year.
- Apportionments, benevolences, capital costs, etc. are NOT included in the formula.
- Membership, attendance, and similar statistics are also NOT included in the formula.

The global or General United Methodist Church apportions to each Annual Conference a proportionate share of the General Church budget as determined by delegates to General Conference, which meets every four years. General Church Apportionments are apportioned to local churches using the same formula as Conference Apportionments.

Apportionments fund the programs and activities approved by delegates from your church. Your church's apportionment is your church's fair share of the cost of these programs and activities. Your apportionment is important! Your church's giving makes a big difference!

CLERGY SUPPORT

Our system of appointed clergy is an essential part of our connectional United Methodist Church. The Clergy Support apportionment provides funding for the expenses borne by the Florida Conference to sustain, support, hold accountable, and nurture our clergy.

The Clergy Support apportionment provides funding for clergy salaries and benefits paid by the Florida Conference and for other expenses related to our clergy system. Since this is the largest area of expense in the conference budget it is also the largest single apportionment item for every local church. The conference spends nearly 100 percent of this budget area each year, so, by action of Annual Conference, this apportionment must be paid in full each year by every local church. Any part of this apportionment that a church does not pay in the current year is carried forward and added to that church's apportionment the following year.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$5,415,276	97.30%
2007	$3,956,714	94.62%
2008	$2,231,983	96.46%
2009	$2,411,048	92.00%

The Clergy Support apportionment is used in the following ways.

- Clergy Benefits and Equitable Compensation — The local church is the primary salary-paying unit for pastors, but the Florida Conference pays a variety of clergy benefits and expenses, including a substantial subsidy for the equitable compensation.
- Clergy-Related Conference Boards — This apportionment pays the meeting and program cost of our Conference Board of Ordained Ministry (BOOM) .
- Center for Clergy Excellence — The clergy support apportionment covers the Conference Office of Ministry's staffing and expenses.
- Bishop's Office and Residence — This apportionment pays the Episcopal office and Episcopal residence expenses which are not paid by the General Church (through the Episcopal Fund apportionment).
- District Superintendents and Cabinet — This apportionment pays the salaries, benefits, and business expenses of our 9 district superintendents; and the meeting-related and other costs of the Cabinet.
- Judicial Process — The clergy support apportionment pays for the cost of the conference committee on Investigations and Judicial Procedures, which handles difficult clergy matters. It also pays the conference's costs related to clergy suspensions during the investigative and judicial process.

WORLD SERVICE FUND

World Service is “the first benevolent responsibility of the Church” (2008 United Methodist Book of Discipline, ¶812). This apportionment provides the basic financial resources for the core ministries of our denomination.

It underwrites Christian mission around the world, empowers our evangelism efforts, stimulates church growth, expands Bible studies, supports local church programs, enriches spiritual commitment and provides the means to equip and nurture our lay leaders through education and professional support. Giving to World Service helps God’s children everywhere and enables the proclamation of our Christian faith.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$3,730,590	81.98%
2007	$3,815,015	76.65%
2008	$4,052,238	76.48%
2009	$2,875,409	72.00%

The World Service dollar is one of the hardest-working dollars in the United Methodist Church.

- General Boards and Agencies — The World Service is the cornerstone for the funding of the connectional system of the United Methodist Church. It represents the minimum needs of the denomination’s general agencies which serve as a resource to local churches and as an extension of local churches in ministry and mission on a conference, national and world level.
- Mission Giving — This apportionment provides funds for the administrative structure of our church. The major thrust in mission giving in our church begins here. Because our contributions to World Service cover overhead expenses, every dollar given to relief efforts goes directly to people in need and every dollar given to support the work of over 2,000 mission personnel goes directly to that personnel. In addition, when there is not enough money available to provide salary support for these missionaries through our Advance Special giving, World Service funds are used to make up the shortfall.

What World Service is really about is people – people in local congregations all across the Florida Conference who live, work and do ministry where they are and people who have enough love and resources left over to want to reach out to the world beyond their door.

CONFERENCE BENEVOLENCES

This apportionment provides funding for Florida Conference program, mission and benevolent endeavors.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$3,716,080	83.91%
2007	$4,024,164	78.44%
2008	$4,024,164	77.55%
2009	$3,285,317	80.00%

- Conference Connectional Ministries — This apportionment provides funding for the Conference Connectional Ministries which includes the following Florida Conference ministries and programs:

 - Camp Facilities in Leesburg, Green Cove Springs (North Florida), Alva (South Florida), and Centenary (North Florida)
 - Camps Ministry, including Summer Camps for children and youth
 - Communications, including the conference web site: www.flumc.org
 - Church & Society
 - Disaster Preparation & Relief
 - Discipleship
 - Ethnic Local Church Concerns ELCC
 - Health & Wholeness
 - Hispanic Ministry
 - Learning for Spiritual Leaders
 - Missions
 - Young Adult Ministry
 - Youth Ministry

- Conference Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministries — This apportionment pays the salaries for our campus ministers and the operating expenses for Wesley Foundations at colleges and universities throughout the conference. It also provides support for United Methodist-related Florida Southern College and Bethune-Cookman College.

- Conference Board of Lay Ministry — This apportionment supports ministry to and by the conference’s lay people, including United Methodist Men and Women, Lay Speaking Ministry and Lay Witness Mission.

- Office of Congregational Transformation — This apportionment pays salary and expenses for the Office of Congregational Transformation

- Other Conference Ministries — The conference benevolences apportionment supports the work of many ministries and agencies operating throughout the Florida Conference, including:

 - Archives and History
 - Religion and Race
 - Status and Role of Women

CONFERENCE SERVICES AND ADMINISTRATION

The Conference Services and Administration apportionment funds the general operations and administration of the Florida Conference. The coordination, oversight, and other administrative services provided by the Conference are a vital part of all that we do together. Our buildings and facilities in Lakeland, Leesburg and other places serve to nurture, strengthen, and broaden our ministry and mission. All of this and more is funded through the Conference Services and Administration apportionment.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$1,909,684	83.46%
2007	$2,149,335	78.55%
2008	$1,972,072	78.81%
2009	$1,513,773	78.00%

The Conference Services and Administration apportionment provides funding for many areas in the conference.

- Financial and Administrative Leadership — This apportionment pays the expenses of the various conference bodies that manage the conference’s finances and properties and provide legal and leadership administration. These bodies include the Conference Council on Finance and Administration (CF&A), Conference Trustees, IT, Election Procedures Committee, Legal Advisory Committee, Nominations Committee, Standing Rules Committee, Delegation Expense, and the Conference Capital Commission. It also pays the cost of the conference’s annual audit by an independent CPA firm.
- Annual Conference Event — This apportionment funds the cost of holding our annual conference session each year, including facility rental, sound, lighting, video, printing and postage.
- Conference Workbook and Journal — The expenses of the Annual Conference workbook and Journal are paid by this apportionment. The fee charged for the Journal only covers a portion of the total expense to produce, print, and distribute it.
- United Methodist Conference Center — This apportionment pays operating expenses for the conference center facilities in Lakeland. These costs include utilities, telephone, computers and other equipment, computer software and programming, facility maintenance and repair, janitorial services and supplies, office supplies and postage.
- Employee Salaries and Benefits — Salaries and benefits for conference financial, technical and administrative staff are funded through this apportionment.
- Property Maintenance — The Conference Services and Administration apportionment funds the Conference Capital Replacement Fund which pays for capital maintenance needs of conference-owned buildings in Lakeland, Leesburg, and other locations. This apportionment pays the cost of property and casualty insurance on all conference-owned facilities and the cost of our state-wide, toll-free phone number.

NEW CHURCH STARTS

This apportionment helps underwrite the cost of starting new churches in the Florida Conference. To increase our rate of making disciples in an increasing population, the Florida Conference must continue to start new churches and missions to reach people of all ages, races and nationalities. The Florida Conference leads the nation in the United Methodist Church in new church starts and missions

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$ 837,256	81.58%
2007	$ 908,000	75.61%
2008	$1,073,032	76.05%
2009	$ 784,798	76.00%

The Conference Committee on New Church Development works with the Cabinet and the District Committees on New Church Development to identify target communities for new churches and missions. Each District is represented on the Committee through its chair (or their representative) of the District Committee on New Church Development. Missioninsite demographic database is used to help locate areas in which new congregations are needed

This apportionment provides funding for new church starts in each District as follows:

- A traditional church start (“parachute drop).
- For new starts that are “Mother/Daughter” (churches starting churches) and multi-site (second campus).
- Each new mission in a District.

This committee also provides training, coaching and mentoring for pastors who have demonstrated and been tested to have the gifts needed to start a new congregation.

The administrative expenses for this committee are funded through interest earnings on loans for first units to new churches and not through apportionments.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION FUND

This apportionment finances the administrative function of the denomination's general activities, including the cost of General Conference.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$327,687	82.08%
2007	$329,938	77.09%
2008	$356,797	78.15%
2009	$332,561	75.00%

This fund finances general church activities that are administrative in nature rather than missional, programmatic, or ecumenical. The General Administration Fund was established as part of the original financial plan of the Methodist Church at its unification in 1939.

- General Conference – This apportionment pays the basic costs of General Conference, which is the arena where United Methodists come together to work through their differences and to discover the important things that unite them. General Conference meets once every four years (quadrennium). Approximately 18% of this fund is budgeted for the 2008 General Conference to cover the cost of transportation of the official delegates, a per diem for food and lodging, the rental of the meeting facilities, equipment, services and other meeting expenses. In 2011, delegates to the Florida Annual Conference session will elect an equal number of lay and clergy delegates to represent the Florida Conference at the 2012 General Conference.
- Legal, Financial and Administration – This apportionment fund provides for the expenses of the Judicial Council and covers the administrative functions of the General Council on Finance and Administration. It funds the safeguarding of our denomination's legal interests and rights and the managing of The United Methodist Foundation.
- History and Statistics – The general administration fund pays for the operating costs for the General Commission on Archives and History and maintenance of historic shrines, landmarks and sites. This apportionment also pays for the cost of compiling and publishing our denominational statistics, and maintaining our denominational records.

EPISCOPAL FUND

This apportionment pays for the expenses of active bishops and for the support of retired bishops and spouses. It pays for expenses related to Florida's Bishop Timothy W. Whitaker. The general church spends nearly 100% of this budget area each year, so this apportionment must be paid in full each year by every local church. Any part of this apportionment that a church does not pay in the current year is carried forward and added to that church's apportionment the following year.

Bishops have always had a very special role in our church, elected and consecrated to speak to the church, and from the church.

Whether presiding over annual conference sessions, surveying disaster damage, meeting with district leaders or planting a tree, bishops accept what the apostle Paul called "a noble task" (1 Timothy 3:1). It is practical as well since our bishops are responsible for the oversight and promotion of both the temporal and spiritual interests of the church.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$950,955	94.22%
2007	$980,917	93.92%
2008	$1,059,869	95.75%
2009	$1,066,220	92.00%

- Bishops' Salaries and Benefits – The Episcopal Fund provides salaries, moving expenses, pension, disability coverage, medical insurance and professional travel expenses for the bishops (including our bishop in Florida).
- Episcopal Office and Residence – This fund helps support the cost of the Episcopal residence (including our Bishop's residence in Lakeland) as well as operating expenses for the Episcopal Office.

The Episcopal Fund was one of the three general apportioned funds which were part of the financial plan of the Methodist Church from the time of its unification in 1939. All monies collected for the Episcopal Fund are sent to the General Council on Finance and Administration on a monthly basis and are then distributed back to the bishops and Episcopal offices on a regular basis. All active bishops are paid the same salary based on General Conference action each quadrennium (4-year period). This fund provides the base support for the Bishops of the church, not only in the US, but also for the missionary bishops around the world.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL COOPERATION FUND

This apportionment supports General Church ecumenical ministries. This is United Methodism in mission with other Christian denominations, witnessing to Christian unity.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$ 104,788	82.0%
2007	$ 101,641	75.98%
2008	$ 103,971	76.49%
2009	$ 77,780	72.00%

We United Methodists are a small part of the worldwide Christian church – the living body of Jesus Christ. Our unity with other Christian communities is affirmed in the historic creeds as we confess one holy, universal and apostolic church; support ecumenical efforts around the world; foster a renewal of Christian unity and understanding; give witness to a common Christian faith; meet human suffering when and where we can; and advocate for peace and justice all over the world.

- Ecumenical agencies – The Interdenominational Cooperation Fund provides basic support for the ecumenical agencies through which the United Methodist Church participates and cooperates with other Christian communities to further God’s kingdom. It also undergirds the work of chaplains, the program Religion in American Life, and Church World Service, a cooperative mission endeavor. Our gifts to the Interdenominational Cooperation Fund nurture the ministries of the Consultation on Church Union, the National Council of Churches, the World Council of Churches, and the Commission on Pan-Methodist Cooperation.
- Churches Uniting in Christ - Ten denominations are joined together in the Churches Uniting in Christ to seek ways toward greater visibility and effectiveness among themselves. The CUIC is now working to address theological issues related to the reconciliation of ministries, the mutual recognition of each other's churches, and shared Eucharistic fellowship. These ten member denominations are:
 - African Methodist Episcopal Church
 - African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church
 - Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
 - Christian Methodist Episcopal Church
 - The Episcopal Church
 - International Council of Community Churches
 - Presbyterian Church (USA)
 - United Church of Christ
 - The United Methodist Church
 - Moravian Church Northern Province

MINISTERIAL EDUCATION FUND

The Ministerial Education Fund (MEF) helps recruit and train effective United Methodist Ministers. It is an essential element of assuring high-quality, well-prepared clergy for the United Methodist Church. The MEF helps men and women respond to God's divine call on their life.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$1,348,223	79.98%
2007	$1,312,782	73.73%
2008	$1,317,307	73.86%
2009	$ 970,452	70.00%

Our thirteen United Methodist seminaries lead the way in proclaiming God's Word in a world that needs that message desperately: Boston University School of Theology, Boston, MA; Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Atlanta, GA; Claremont School of Theology, Claremont, CA; Drew University, The Theological School, Madison, NJ; Duke University, The Divinity School, Durham, NC; Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, GA; Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, Evanston, IL; Illiff School of Theology, Denver, CO; Methodist Theological School in Ohio, Delaware, OH; Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, TX; Saint Paul School of Theology, Kansas City, MO; United Theological Seminary, Dayton, OH; Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, DC.

These seminaries are crucial to the future of the United Methodist Church as they partner with the local church to help men and women respond to God's call to full time, vocational ministry. Supporting MEF helps provide churches with pastoral leaders who work to meet the daily needs of the church and unchurched in their community.

How Churches Benefit from the Fund

- MEF support for all thirteen United Methodist seminaries helps keep tuition costs down.
- MEF supports continuing education courses for clergy and diaconal ministers currently serving congregations, as well as course of study schools for training local pastors.
- Scholarship aid is available to candidates for ordained ministry.
- Ordained and diaconal ministers receive spiritual formation resources to help them be more effective spiritual leaders.
- MEF sponsors regional and national events where people can explore God's call to ministry.
- Annual Conference Board of Ordained Ministry members are trained and supported in their work of approving and evaluating leaders who serve the church.

How the Fund Works

- General Conference determines the apportioned fund amount each quadrennium (4-year period).
- Each annual conference retains 25% of the amount received for the MEF apportionment in order to provide direct financial aid for theological training to those in their own conference.
- The remaining 75% goes to the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry where 63% is sent to our 13 United Methodist Seminaries.
- The Division of Ordained Ministry uses the remaining funds to support programs for ordained and diaconal ministers.

BLACK COLLEGE FUND

The Black College Fund supports the operational expense and capital improvement needs of our eleven predominantly black, United Methodist-related colleges and a medical school.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$537,762	80.80%
2007	$522,744	74.45%
2008	$524,567	75.93%
2009	$392,795	71.00%

Nurtured by the Black College Fund, the eleven historically Black United Methodist-related institutions play a unique role in United States higher education. They attract students from diverse social, economic and educational backgrounds – students who receive inestimable affirmation and support in vibrant, academically challenging spiritual environments.

Graduates of these ten colleges and a medical school include significant numbers of teachers and doctors, ministers and bishops, scientists and artists, judges, entrepreneurs and journalists. Many are leaders in the African-American community and, notably, leaders in a rapidly changing United States.

The United Methodist Black institutions include:

- Bennett College, Greensboro NC
- Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach FL
- Claflin College, Orangeburg SC
- Clark Atlanta University, Atlanta GA
- Dillard University, New Orleans LA
- Huston-Tillotson College, Austin TX
- Meharry Medical College, Nashville TN
- Paine College, Augusta GA
- Philander Smith College, Little Rock AR
- Rust College, Holly Springs MS
- Wiley College, Marshall TX

These institutions serve as intellectual and spiritual founts preserving and expanding upon the rich history, traditions, and culture of a people and a nation.

It is critical for The United Methodist Church to renew its commitment to provide, through the Black College Fund, major support to these schools because of the unique role they continue to play in U.S. education. Societal inequities of race and class require educational institutions committed to providing academic excellence while serving as intellectual, spiritual and cultural reservoirs of African-American history and tradition.

Our own Florida Conference Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach receives financial support from this fund.

AFRICA UNIVERSITY FUND

This apportionment helps fund the development of a United Methodist university located in Zimbabwe, Africa. This university provides opportunities for students throughout Africa and includes schools of theology, agriculture, and education.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$120,378	86.81%
2007	$115,438	77.68%
2008	$115,787	78.76%
2009	$ 93,360	76.00%

This fund supports the only United Methodist degree-granting university on the continent of Africa -- serving young men and women from all over Africa. Its mission is "to provide a higher education of excellent quality, to nurture students in Christian values, and to help the nations of Africa develop the leaders of the future."

Nestled between the lowlands of Mozambique and the highlands of Zimbabwe breathes Africa University -- a young, sturdy educational facility promoting academic, physical and spiritual development. Africa University currently offers courses in agriculture and natural resources, management and administration, theology, and education.

Africa University students come from Burundi, Kenya, Angola, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Malawi, Sierra Leone, Nigeria, Tanzania, Swaziland, Zimbabwe, Mozambique, Zambia, Botswana, South Africa, Ethiopia, Sudan, Liberia, Cameroon, Mali, Uganda, Benin, Rwanda and even America. In this university community, 1395 students from 22 African countries are united on one goal to attain a quality education.

One of Africa University's unique characteristics is its culturally diverse, multi-lingual, multi-traditional student body. Besides a variety of classes, students enjoy stimulating discussions from classmates of different cultures and beliefs. While Africa University is a private institution, it is not an elite one. The university takes pride in welcoming students from a variety of backgrounds, languages, traditions, values and lifestyles.

The university's logo, the healthy and prolific acacia tree which grows beautifully throughout Africa, is indicative of what happens to persons who wish not only to grow, but to share and spread that growth. The university's mission is "to provide higher education of high quality, to nurture students in Christian values, and to help the nations of Africa achieve their educational and professional goals. Africa University will play a critical role in education of the new leaders of African nations."

JURISDICTIONAL FUND

This apportionment underwrites the cost of the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference along with various programs of the Church in the Southeast.

	Apportionment	Percent given
2006	$248,237	80.82%
2007	$303,158	74.78%
2008	$319,249	73.49%
2009	$189,155	74.00%

The United Methodist Church in the United States is divided into five Jurisdictions, or geographical areas – the Northeastern Jurisdiction, The Southeastern Jurisdiction, the North Central Jurisdiction, the South Central Jurisdiction, and the Western Jurisdiction.

- The Southeastern Jurisdiction (SEJ) covers nine southeastern states – Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The Florida Conference is a member of the Southeastern Jurisdiction. The other conferences in the SEJ are: South Georgia, North Georgia, Alabama-West Florida, North Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Western North Carolina, North Carolina, Holston, Virginia, Tennessee, Memphis, Kentucky, and the Red Bird Missionary Annual Conference.
- Program and Administration – The Southeastern Jurisdictional Fund provides administrative support for the Jurisdictional Council offices, program support for the Jurisdiction, and the cost of the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference every four years. This fund provides a per diem plus travel costs for the almost 600 delegates to the four-day Jurisdictional Conference. One of the major responsibilities of these delegates is the election of bishops. But the overwhelming majority of these funds are used in support of the SEJ Administrative Council and the programs it supports such as Hinton Rural Like Center, Gulfside Assembly, SEMAR, UMVIM, and the Lay Ministry Training Center.

SEJ headquarters are located in Lake Junaluska, North Carolina.

DISTRICT APPORTIONMENTS

In addition to Conference, General Church and Jurisdictional Church Apportionments, each District apportions monies to support missions, ministries, programs and administration within the local District. Some Districts support several apportioned funds for a variety of different purposes. While the District apportionments are received in the conference office along with other apportionment and connectional giving, 100% of the monies received for all District apportionments are returned to the District each month.

Districts are defined by geographic area, and every District has at least two funds: the District Work Fund and the District New Church Development Fund.

DISTRICT WORK FUND

The apportioned amount and percent given vary by District
2006 Percent given: $2,015,404 average was 88.44%
2007 Percent given: $2,009,691 average was 84.99%
2008 Percent given: $1,992,022 average was 82.45%
2009 Percent given: $1,688,601 average was 84.00%

This is the primary apportionment that provides funding for the operations of each District. Monies from this apportionment support the maintenance of the District Parsonage and District Office, the salary and benefits of the District Administrative Assistant (and sometimes other staff), office supplies, office utilities, office equipment, etc. The cost of District meetings and/or District training events may be supported from this apportionment or another District apportionment. The salary, benefits and routine business travel expense of the District Superintendent are provided by the conference through the Clergy Support Apportionment.

DISTRICT NEW CHURCH DEVELOPMENT FUND

The apportioned amount and percent given vary by District
2006 Percent given: $1,542,932 average was 84.50%
2007 Percent given: $1,542,799 average was 79.41%
2008 Percent given: $1,652,422 average was 76.22%
2009 Percent given: $1,210,761 average was 78.00%

This apportionment helps support the cost of starting new churches and other District mission initiatives. The Conference provides substantial financial support for new churches through the new Church Start Apportionment. The Conference and each District work in partnership to start new churches. This apportionment provides monies to buy land for new churches, to help offset other expenses in starting new churches and to fund other related property and mission matters in each District.
