Become a HOPE Letters Mentor

HOPE Letters is a correspondence mentoring ministry under the umbrella of The Oasis at LCI. While the majority of the ministries of the Oasis are done in-person, HOPE Letters offers a way for any woman - regardless of where she lives - to be able to make a significant impact on the life of an incarcerated woman.

After reading some training material and watching a short training video, a new mentor is ready to write! Mentors write letters of love, hope, and encouragement. They share scriptures. They pray for their mentee, and make sure she knows it! They share their lives (without disclosing their full name or location) in a way that is meaningful and life-giving to a woman living in a very barren and hopeless atmosphere.

The mentor writes to her new friend directly to the prison in Ocala using her name and prison number. The mentee writes back to her mentor through a PO Box that Pastor Kris monitors. Pastor Kris will pick up your letter, scan it in to a .pdf format, and email you your letter. Then you're ready to write again. Most mentors write about 2x a month.

If you would be willing to offer this gesture of love and hope to a woman desperately needing a kind voice in her life, please email PastorKrisLCI@comcast.net or call her at 302.363.5351. This ministry continues to grow, so continue to need more and more mentors. We are always in recruiting mode! So please share this with your Christian family and friends, your church, your home group, and anyone else who is willing to share her faith journey with a woman in prison.

You will be SO GLAD you did!

Our Mission

The Oasis at Lowell Correctional Institute's mission is to utilize the tenants of faith formation, arts, and education;

to provide holistic services that will improve the quality of life for incarcerated women, reduce recidivism and to empower women to reform their lives.

Meet Pastor Kris

Pastor Kris is the Founding Pastor of The Oasis at LCI and is an ordained United Methodist Pastor serving in the Florida Annual Conference. She began pastoring in 2009 and received her Masters of Divinity from Palmer Theological Seminary in 2010.

Kris has a passion for sharing the amazing love and grace of Jesus, and watching Him set people free from lies, shame, and trauma. She loves preaching and teaching the treasures of scripture, and sharing her life with those needing the freedom that can only be found in the new life in Christ.

The Oasis offers Spirit-filled worship and study opportunities to God's children residing at Lowell Correctional Institute - a place that can feel to some like a desert wasteland.

Our goal is to create an oasis - a place of refreshing - where the chains of shame, trauma, and hopelessness can be broken by the transforming presence of Jesus.
