

Congregational Vitality

Determining Your Values Worksheet

This exercise will be a point of discussion with either a person or group to determine the similarities or diversity in values. To begin, cross-off one item at a time based on that value's ability to stand up to the ones remaining on the list. When you get to the top 10 remaining, number them one to ten using the same technique as above. Each term will mean something different to each person. If doing this project with someone else, define the term when discussing in order to gain agreement.
