Hello everyone!

My name is Matt Harrell and I am the new Fresh Expressions Coordinator for the Florida United Methodist Conference. For the previous six years, my wife, Nina and I had been serving a local United Methodist Church in the greater Atlanta area. Throughout our time there, we met many lifelong friends and had the opportunity to see God move in mighty ways.

Our move to Central Florida was a return home for both of us. Nina and I both grew up in the Orlando area and ultimately decided to return home to be near family.

I am beyond excited about beginning my work in the Florida United Methodist Conference! There are so many amazing leaders who are passionate about reaching their communities with the love and hope of Jesus all across the state.

The Fresh Expressions movement is in place to reach new people, in new places by new ways. We believe that God can move in creative ways through both clergy and laity to reach people who would likely not step foot in what we know of as church. This movement is meant to work together and go alongside the work that our existing churches are doing.

I am excited to work with your District Superintendent, Rev. Jay Therrell and your local churches throughout the North East District in this next chapter of my life! Feel free to shoot me an email anytime if you would like to talk about Fresh Expressions or anything else going on in the Florida Conference.

Blessings,

Matt Harrell
